Built on a hall parlor plan this tenant house dates to the 2nd quarter of the 19th century. Frame on brick piers this structure has a single exterior chimney on the east end. The chimney is laid in three course American bond with double weatherings left without sloping tiles indicating a post 1800 date. The interiors are characterized by the use of heavily beaded chair rail, an early champfered stair newel post, vertically battened doors with beaded planks and E or HL hinges. The stair to the left is enclosed with only a three foot stair rail at the hall landing. Most of the floors are original random width pine boards.
